What If the End of the World Had Come?

(Editor's Note: Harold Camping of Family Radio incorrectly predicted that the world was going to end on Saturday, May 21, 2011. Here is a very thought provoking article):

Much has been written about the alleged time and day for the end of the world.

The media has used it to make fun of "Christianity." Some no doubt will say that because the Judgment day did not come that it will never happen! But a sobering thought crossed my mind last Saturday night. What if Mr. Camping had been right? What if the world had ended? What if the Judgment Day had occurred?

There would be no more chances for me to tell my wife and children how much I love them or how much they mean to my life.

There would be no more chances for me to say I'm sorry to someone I might have offended.

There would be no more chances for me to preach messages that so badly need to be heard.

There would be no more chances for me to make sure my life is right with God.

There would be no more chances for me to spend time with friends and loved ones.

There would be no more chances for me to tell friends how special they are to me.

There would be no more chances for me to express gratitude to someone who has been kind to me.

There would be no more chances for me to mend broken relationships.

There would be no more chances for me to repent of sins in my life.

There would be no more chances for me to study the Word of God.

There would be no more chances for me to pray for others.

The fact is Mr. Camping was wrong, but it is still true that "the Day of the Lord will come..." (2 Peter 3:9-10). It is still true that we will all "stand before the judgment seat of God." (Romans 14:10) It is still true that "each one of us will give an account of himself before God." (Romans 14:12) The question is as valid as ever, "Are you ready for the Judgment Day?"

There is still time. Do something you need to do today. Don't delay. Remember these words of our Savior, "We must work the works of Him who sent Me as long as it is day; night is coming when no one can work" (John 9:4).

In Flanders Fields

*Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.*

*We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.*

*Take up our quarrel with the foe:
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die—
We shall not sleep,
though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.*

by John McCrae, May 1915
